WOMAN SHOT--MAN TURNS GUN ON HIMSELF HERE

Auditorium Project Is Given Approval

Presidential approval has been given proposed construction of the Chaffey auditorium, final action looking to the actual construction depending upon allocation of funds.

Los Angeles office of the P. W. A. advised Chaffey officials that President Franklin D. Roosevelt had approved the project but that actual work could not be started until Congres appropriated additional money and until a sufficient amount was allocated to the local project.

While the approval by President Roosevelt brings to fulfillment a long-awaited action and considerable local gratification officials must still wait for further developments.

Local voters approved construction of the auditorium as a PWA project last fall. Bonds totaling $195,000 are to be issued by the Chaffey district when the actual money for its share of the cost is alloted by PWA. Chaffey district will provide 55 per cent, or $195,000, of the total cost. The PWA is scheduled to pay 45 per cent of the total, which amount is $185,000.

"We will not sell the bonds until the PWA actually provides its share of the cost," President Gardiner W. Spring of Chaffey junior college, said today. "Those bonds will not be touched until there is absolutely no question about the auditorium being constructed."

He further emphasized that the auditorium will not be built until there is definite assurance the project will be completed without any more than 55 per cent of the total cost being borne by the Chaffey district. The total cost includes the actual construction and the furnishings.

One of the measures now before the recently convened Congress is appropriation of funds for additional public works. If the money is appropriated it is then up to the interior department to allocate the money to various projects.

Confidence has been expressed that it will be only a matter of time until all the preliminaries will have been completed and actual work can be started on the project.

Chaffey Choir Hour Is 5:30 on Sunday in National Hook-up

The Chaffey junior college a cappella choir will appear in its second broadcast over the Mutual hook-up at 5:30, Sunday afternoon, Jan. 10, over KHJ. The change in time from that originally announced was made necessary when KHJ changed from the Columbia to the Mutual broadcasting system. S. Earle Blakeslee, director of the a cappella choir, has been assured that a permanent time will be announced when these studio adjustments have been made.

The program for the broadcast at 5:30 next Sunday afternoon follows: Theme song, "The Holy Grail," motif from Parsifal; "God of Mercy," Gottschalk's famous melody; "The Last Hope," arranged by Blakeslee; chorale, "Come, Oh Lord, With Gladness," Bach; "Dark Water," a spiritual, James; "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," Bland (by request); "Hospodi Pomilui," Lvovsky.

Ontario City Hall Gets $2,060 More as Final Work Starts

An additional allotment of $2,060 has been given by the WPA for completion of Ontario's new city hall. Total cost of the structure will be approximately $75,000. Ontario officials have reported actual direct outlay by the city will not be much over $6,000.

Two units of the new building are almost completed. When the old city hall is vacated it will be razed to make room for placing of the third wing in the "U" shaped structure.

In the north wing, which is occupied now, will be the health offices and police court. In the central section will be the council chambers on the first floor and the jail on the second floor. In the south wing, work on which is just getting started, will be the engineering and treasury departments and the city clerk's office.

Five-Year-Old Girl Trails Dog; Father Trails Both of 'Em

Probably Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Lee, West Sixteenth street, and their daughter, Shirley May, are happy today after having forgotten the horrifying experience of the father and little girl. The family moved to Upland only a few weeks ago, but Shirley May, who is five, was smart enough to direct a stranger in taking her home from down town.

The Lees have a pet dog and the little girl is very fond of it. The father, daughter and dog came to Upland to do some shopping yesterday afternoon, their car being parked on Second avenue.

Bye and bye the dog became tired of being cooped up in the car. So he jumped out. Shirley May, of course, went after the dog, she being its mistress and she had to catch him. She did catch him—at the top of an outside stairway of a First avenue residence. Unable to find her father's auto, she was lost. Those observing could see she was lost. She was approached and her benefactor offered to take her home.

The little miss, happy with the dog, but apparently forgetting about her father, gave the correct directions in her route home.

The father summoned police in his search for the little girl. He told police that "she will probably be with the dog." Before long, however, the girl was at home and the distracted parent was calmed. He returned home alone.

BUSINESS LICENSE TOTAL IS $7,084

All Firms Serving This District Required to Pay Local Fee

Business firms serving this district paid the city of Upland during 1936 the sum of $7084.50 in business licenses, this being more than $1000 over the 1935 license collections.

With the start of the new year all out-of-town firms serving the local stores and the general public received statements. All local firms will soon be contacted for their business licenses. Collections so far this month are in keeping with the January receipts of 1935. First month of each year is always a big month for the city license department. Collections are made by the police department, E. C. Mehl, chief of police and city clerk, also being the license collector.

Ninety per cent of the firms pay an annual fee of $20. Contractors are required to pay a $30 annual fee. In some cases the business license here is less than $20, some of the smaller firms and professional men being assessed under $20.

The business license plan was originally started to provide funds to maintain police protection in the business district at night.

New Ordinance Gives County Right to Work On Local Highways

First reading was given to an ordinance by the city council last night accepting the county supervisors' offer to maintain certain local streets.

The proposal specfies the streets and points out that the supervisors are to keep them in proper condition. Money for this work will come from the county's share of the gasoline tax.

BIBLE DEPICTED AS FUNDAMENTAL IN ALL READING

Brother Leo Describes Book as "Portrait of Life and Human Nature"

RE-READ IT, HE ADVISES

Must Know Bible First to Appreciate Literature, Speaker Says

By Pat Williams

"The man who knows the Bible knows the fundamentals of literature," so stated Brother Leo, former chancellor of St. Mary's college, who opened the religion and philosophy series at Chaffey junior college last evening before a well filled Merton E. Hill auditorium. Cooperation in sponsoring the series is given by the churches in Upland and Ontario.

The speaker, who is one of the most popular lecturers on the coast, was introduced by the Rev. Albert Dontanville, rector of St. George's Catholic church.

Opening his speech, "The Bible as Literature," Brother Leo defined literature as a verbal portrait of human life; a portrait of life painted not from the surface but from the inside. "Only great painters can paint from the inside." he stated, "so too, can only great writers write from the inside. The Bible is a portrait of life, a presentation of human nature."

The speaker pointed out that too many have a wrong conception of the Bible. "We call it merely a book; but it is more than that, it is a library of books. It contains drama—poetry—oratory—short stories." In his opinion, people would benefit if the book were divided into its many classifications and rebound, with the poetry written as poetry, the drama as drama, and the oratory as oratory.

"If you don't know the Bible," he said, "you can't appreciate anything in subsequent literature." To more fully explain his point, he told the story of David and Uriah and then read the famous poem, "The Story of Uriah," written by Kipling, showing that without familiarity of the Bible story, the meaning of the poem was lost.

In conclusion Brother Leo told his audience to reread their Bible not only religiously but with a desire to learn more of the art of great masters. "For," he concluded, "it is the word of God; it s literature; and it is, likewise, the word of man."

Next speaker in the series will be Dr. Everett Dean Martin, theologian and director of Cooper Union, New York City, and a member of the Pomona college faculty. He wll speak on "Freedom, Culture and Religion," next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Credit Association Loans $900,009 in Year; Little Here

The San Bernardino County Production Credit association loaned $900,000 to ranchers in the county, very little of which was in the West End.

John Belcher, Upland, is president of the association. Annual meeting of the group will be held Monday in San Bernardino. He reported today on the amount of the loans.

Trees Are at Stake As Petition Is Filed

Lives of 20-year-old ornamental trees on Mountain avenue are at stake in the issue now before the city council and the city planning commission. A petition, protesting the proposed removal of thees on Mountain was presented to the council last night.

Last night's petition was in answer to one presented last month asking for permission to remove the trees. Both petitions are to be presented to the planning commission for disposal.

Earl P. House, Mountain avenue at Twenty-first street, presented last night's petition and pointed out he had obtained signatures from persons interested even though they did not live on Mountain avenue.

The petition read: "We, the undersigned, residents and voters and people interested in the welfare of the city, protest the removal of palm and ornamental trees lining Mountain avenue from Twelfth street to the mountains."

Those signing the petition follow: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wiebe, Mrs. H. L. McLellan, H. A. Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Clewett, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hewlett, Earl P. House, Mrs. Marjorie S. V. H. Wilson New Santa Fe Official; Is Not Local Man

V. H. Wilson, division superintendent.

That title looks odd after the name of Upland's city councilman of that name.

Nevertheless the title is there and it is correct. One thing about it, however, is that the V. H. Wilson referred to is not the city councilman. He is the division superintendent for the Santa Fe railway system with headquarters in San Bernardino.

He was at the Upland city council meeting last night concerning a request for a slight change in the Santa Fe side tracks. The two Wilsons spoke warmly to each other and there was some chiding about the "V. H.'s" getting together.

The Santa Fe Mr. Wilson was recently apponted to the position at San Bernardino, which includes Upland in the division.

CITY TO GIVE UP HEALTH DIRECTION

County Department Will Assume Local Work July 1, Council Decides

Effective July 1 the county health department will be in charge of the administration of the health department activties here as the result of action at the Upland city council meeting last night. This action is in keeping with discussion several months ago when Dr. Robert I. Hodgin was made health officer. When the change is made it is understood Dr. Hodgin will be appointed a deputy county health officer. The new arrangement will enable Upland to benefit by services of the larger county department and at the same time retain the advantages of the local system, according to city officials.

Dr. Hodgin has been serving as city health officer since the retirement of Dr. John B. Craig.

Mrs. F. Jebens, 689 Pine street, recently enjoyed a two weeks visit over the holidays from her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Jebens and daughter Josephina, of Rawlins, Wyo.

Santa Fe To Change Tracks on Stowell To Aid Association

Santa Fe Railway Co. was given permission by the city council last night to make changes in its side tracks on Stowell street near Third avenue.

The changes will give the Mountain View Fruit association one additional car spot for loading.

Library Is Closed Due to Cold Weather

Upland public library is closing until the weather moderates. Heating facilities at the library are insufficient to warm the buildng and the institution will be closed until normal temperatures are in effect.

Mrs. F. H. Manker, librarian, announced the closing.

Meek Gets Biggest Thrill of Career in Stanford Win

Biggest thrill ever experienced by John Meek in playing football came in the University of California victory over Stanford university last season.

He is in Upland visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Meek, after a lengthy jaunt to Georgia and on to Mexico City. The California gridders spent their Christmas vacation losing a close encounter to Georgia Tech and seeing the sights of this country and Mexioc.

"We should have won the Georgia game but after that Stanford game and with the big trip and everything—well, we just couldn't do it," the famous young Uplander explained.

At Chaffey, the youngest of the Meek family was rated one of the best athletes the Tigers ever had. He rates about the same way on the Berkeley campus. Usually quarterbacks are famous for the way they carry the ball. Not so with Meek. He is built with a good head and with a wonderful physique. He uses the head in properly directing the team and his well-formed football body comes in just right for making interference and in backing up the line on defense. He seldom carries the ball.

Asked definitely which game he enjoyed the most, the visiting student did not hesitate.

"The Stanford game. That victory made the season highly successful for us," he explained. "It's that way every year," the grinning, robust, stocky-built Uplander continued. "If we win that game most people consider California had a good year."

First view of a packed stadium gives the players a thrill. There is always more enthusiasm and more "build up" for a big game. After a game starts, however, Meek said he never noticed the crowds. "They are a bother then because they make so much noise."

High school games gave Meek a thrill but there is considerable difference between high school and college playing. The coaching he received at Chaffey from Howard L. Mitchell was highly commended.

MRS. DOUGLAS IS HIT BY BULLETS; A. E. DEAN DEAD

Upland Woman Escapes With Bullet Wound in Shoulder In Shooting

THREE BULLETS FOUND

Attempted Murder and Suicide Is Term Given to Case By Police

With a bullet wound in her shoulder, Mrs. Irene Douglas is in the San Bernardino hospital and A. E. Dean is dead as the result of a shooting affair in her residence, 1195 East Ninth street at noon today. Upland police and deputy sheriffs have termed the shooting a case of attempted murder and suicide.

Mrs. Douglas is not seriously injured, it is believed. She is being held in the hospital by police pending final settlement of the unusual shooting affair. Three empty shells from an automatic pistol were found on the floor of the modest home.

Mr. Dean's body was lying in bed when police hurried to the house. The pistol was gripped in both hands. Death came to him suddenly it is believed, when a bullet pierced his brain.

First word of the shooting was received by Mrs. Hattie L. Irvin, 1208 East Ninth street, a neighbor of Mrs. Douglas.

"Let me in, a man has shot me!" Mrs. Douglas shouted to Mrs. Irvin as the injured woman approached the neighbor's door. "Will you take care of it—dress it?" Mrs. Irvin declined and suggested that police be called.

Later the injured woman was examined by Dr. R. I. Hodgin, city health officer, and then rushed to the San Bernardino hospital.

Upland police responded, but in noting the address, officers remembered a report that the man was believed to be mentally deranged. Officers returned to get a tear gas gun and later cautiously approached the house.

Inside they saw an aged man, deathly still in bed, his body fully clothed, partially covered with

WEATHER FORECAST WILL BE CONTINUED

KNX Allots Definite Time for Temperatures During January

Assurance of adequate time for continuation of the nightly temperature forecasts by Floyd Young over radio station KNX has been received from the Columbia Broadcasting system by the California Fruit Growers Exchange.

The frost warning will be given at the usual time of 8 p. m. every night except Sunday, when a flash announcement will be made at that hour with complete report to follow at 9:45 p. m. For the six week nights a full five-minute period is available with additional time if emergency demands it. This arrangement is now definite for the balance of the month of January at least.

With the switch of all Columbia programs to KNX a week ago there was some difficulty in arranging for sufficient time at 8 o'clock because of the continuous sponsored chain programs at that time of night, which is as early as the weather forecast can be prepared by Mr. Young.

"Citrus growers should know that Columbia and KNX officials fully appreciate the public service and economic value of this nightly broadcast to the citrus industry and to the state," said Paul S. Armstrong, general manager of the Exchange. "They have done everything within their power to cooperate with us and with Mr. Young to give this important service the time on the air required and to keep the same hour to which growers have become accustomed."

Firing Starts Soon To Prevent Freeze

With orchard heaters scheduled to be started early this evening, temperatures as low as 18 degrees are forecast for lower portions of the local citrus district. R. J. Rogers, local U. S. weather bureau representative, predicted extreme cold tonight. Possibility of this extremely cold weather was reported to many associations at noon today and extensive preparations are underway. Heaters are being placed in some groves never before heated and a district-wide effort will be made to save the district's huge citrus crop.

The 18-degree temperature was predicted for groves on elevations lower than Upland but there is a likelihood of the mercury hitting near the 20-degree point here.

Office of the Ontario-Cucamonga Frut Exchange was rushed this morning in notifying organizations of the impending "freeze." At 9 a.m. the report was for temperatures about the same tonight as last night. Two hours later, however, U. S. weather bureau predictions said the mercury was going down and at that time Mr. Rogers advised The Upland News of the 18-degree possibility.

Weather forecast for all of Southern California from Los Angeles follows: "Fair tonight and Saturday and in southeast portion heavy frost."

Warmed by hundreds of orchard heaters, the citrus district today survived without much damage to oranges and lemons from the low temperature last night. As to the possible damage, those in touch with the citrus industry shied from making definite statements. Extent of the damage cannot be determined until later.

Orchard heating was quite general in Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga and Ontario. Some growers, however, do not have heaters as part of their equipment due to advantageous location of their property.

Snow covers the mountains and under last night's fairly clear sky the setting was right for low temperatures. Throughout the day growers anticipated firing before daybreak.

At Bear Canyon resort the snow is three feet deep and at Snowcrest the white covering is four feet in depth. Road into San Antonio canyon is open during the day but motorists are warned to stay off of it when freezing begins late in the afternoon. Temperature hit the 18 degree point at the resort.

Mercury Record in Various Parts of Distrist Is Listed

Temperature was down as low as 25 degrees in Upland at 5 o'clock this morning to record the lowest mark the mercury has reached for several years. Official temperatue at the U. S. weather bureau's key station, Seventh street and San Antonio avenue was 26 degrees.

A listing of temperatures at various points on Euclid avenue revealed varying degrees within a distance of half a mile. At Euclid avenue and Nineteenth street the mark was near 25 degrees while only a half mile away it was about two degrees warmer.

A check of all temperatures at various parts of the district was made to determine locations of the various "low" and "high" spots in the citrus area.

CITRUS HARVEST WILL BE RUSHED

Week's Rain Delays Picking And Quota May Be Met Next Week

Picking and packing of citrus fruit in this district have been delayed this week due to the rain and general weather condtions.

If conditions are favorable most of the local citrus associations will be working at near capacity. The prorate allotted this district for the week has not been filled. The unfilled balance and the quota for next week can be allotted for the week beginnng Monday if the fruit can be obtained.

Rain during the week's storm has brought the season's precipitation total to 15.27 inches. The week's rain added nearly two inches to the total. A year ago at this time the season total was 2.11 inches, according to J. R. Johnston, weather observer at Twenty-second street.

Fictitious Checks Issued on Stores

Checks believed to be fictitiously written were given by an unidentified man at two Upland stores yesterday and he is today the object of a wide police search. At the John E. Engle store and at the Relable Shoe repair shop the man purchased merchandise with checks. In each case the check was a trifle more than the amount of the total bill, change being given to him as well as the merchandise.

He is described as being about 40 years of age, five feet, six inches in height, weighing about 165 pounds. He was wearing a blue jacket, light trousers, cap and black shoes.

Etiwanda Boasts No Smudge During Night

Etiwanda, proud little citrus community that it is, boasted today that "not a grower had to light a heater." At least that was the report of some Etiwanda growers who were in Upland today. "The wind was blowing slightly to keep the air in circulation," one explanation said.

Uplanders Named on Superior Court Jury

Uplanders are named on the first jury panel for the San Bernardino county superior court. Those on the jury from here are Elmer L. Howell, Mrs. E. C. Rosenberger, Roy A. Franklin, J. L. Messenger and Fred J. Scott, Upland.

City Joins in Plea to Get WPA To Change Basis for Projects

City of Upland is in sympathy with the movement to ask the WPA to place its projects on the same basis effective during last summer. Prepared resolutions from the California League of Municipalities in regard to the matter were referred to City Attorney Edward E. Gray by the city council last night.

The attorney will study the proposals and he is expected to submit a locally-drafted resolution embracing local conditions. A recent WPA change requires that the cities sponsoring projects provide a larger share of the total cost.

The county supervisors and the Ontario city council have adopted similar resolutions.

Annual Scout Meeting Friday With Brougher As Principal Speaker

Annual meeting of the Old Baldy Council of Boy Scouts will be held in the Trinity Methodist church, Pomona, next Friday, with Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Jr., as the speaker.

Upland will be represented at the meeting, the following being members of the council: Earl E. Hawthorne, R. H. Henderson, E. Tweed Stone and Owen E. Atwood. Local scoutmasters are Mr. Hawthorne, Paul Schowalter and LeGrand Cortright.

Reservations may be obtained from any of the local council members.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Verily, verily, I say unto thee, except one be born anew, he cannot see the Kingdom of God.—John 3:3.

Further Business Recovery Anticipated

Business recovery to the levels of the prosperous twenties is predicted for 1937 by the United States News, it being estimated that purchasing power according to best available government data will reach within five per cent of what it was in 1929. National income this year is forecast at $68,000,000,000, as compared with an estimated income of $61,000,000,000 for 1936 and $53,500,000,000 the previous year. This will be a gain of 11 per cent over last year.

Major factors counted on to continue the rise in national income include a huge demand for replacement of machinery and other durable goods, one estimate being that 16 to 20 million workers could be required for a year to make up the deficiency in these goods that occurred during the depression. Increased foreign demand because of rearmament programs is given as the second reason, while easy credit is the third, it being pointed out that money is now available at the lowest rates on record and bankers and borrowers are showing greater willingness to take risks on new ventures.

The News also cites retarding factors, including the fact that tax payments will be heavier and the social security act will force millions of workers to lay aside a portion of their wages for old age pensions and unemployment compensation. Also, shortage in skilled labor may develop in some lines, particularly in building construction, which has been most laggard in recovering. Government borrowing to finance public works and relief is expected to stop, it being pointed out that funds available from social security act collections and general taxation will eliminate the need for further borrowing.

Other dangers to recovery pointed out are: Speculative buying for inventories and the resultant increase in prices; strikes and labor troubles may tie up some of the key industries, a show-down in the automobile or steel industries may so retard production in those and many subsidiary industries that the predicted prosperity levels might not be reached during the year.

In answer to the question: Will the increased prosperity end the unemployment problem, The News says:

"While manufacturing, both of durable and non-durable goods is expected to employ nearly as many workers as in 1929, construction will remain below normal. Also, technical progress has reduced the number of workers needed in some industries.

"Still another reason why near-restoration of 1929 levels of consumption will not end the unemployment problem is the increase in the number of gainful workers. It is estimated that because of population growth there now are four million more gainful workers than in 1929."

What Good Does It Do to Worry

While you were making your New Year's resolutions there is one you should have made—if you didn't. And that is not to worry in 1937—about anything. That should not mean to not make any plans or work toward anything definite; but don't worry about it—for there is nothing that will torture a person quite so intensely and continually or wear him down so thoroughly as worry.

There are many who would enjoy much more what they have if they didn't worry because they do not have more—and usually they don't really need more—they simply want it. Worry keeps you from getting needed sleep—and you can't work nearly as effectively if you worry about things.

And yet—as life grows more complex—people are worrying more. A recent survey disclosed that in the past decade admittance to hospitals for nervous and mental diseases—for which worry is the main cause—increased from 47.8 to 53.3 per 100,000 population.

Then, what have most of us to worry about, anyway?

You're not making enough money, you say? Or you're not developing into the big shot you once dreamed you might become? Or perhaps you're perplexed as to what life is all about.

But are these troubles so hopeless after all?

A man usually knows how he can make more money—if he'd only put into play a few of the better thoughts he's had. As for the dreams of great accomplishment—it's often comforting to remember that every man who ever breathed has fancied himself in the high places. And as for life itself—well, who does know anything about it, really?

And then there's this question: What has anyone ever gotten out of worry besides a one-way ticket to a nerve specialist?

The secret of the happy man is that he saves the mental energy that worry would consume—saves it for doing his best on actual problems as they arise.

We humans are hard to satisfy—in fact, we just cannot be satisfied for long at a time. If the sun shines for many days at a time we begin to holler for clouds and rain. Now that it has been raining there are some who are longing for the sunshine. As the little jingle goes: "When it's wet we want it dry; when it's dry we want it wet; when it's hot we want it cold; when it's cold we want it hot—always wanting what it's not." The prayer of the average person would be something like that of Karl Krapek in The Gardener's Year, which follows: "O Lord, grant that in some way it may rain every day, say from about midnight until 3 o'clock in the morning, but You see, it must be gentle and warm so that it can soak in; grant that at the same time it would not rain on campion, alyssum, heliantbemum, lavender, and the others which You in Your infinite wisdom know are drought-loving plants. I will write their names on a bit of paper if You like, and grant that the sun may shine the whole day long, but not everywhere (not, for instance, on spiraea, or on gentian, plantain lily, and rhododendron), and not too much; that there may be plenty of dew and little wind, enough worms, no plant-lice and snails, no mildew, and that once a week thin liquid manure and guano may fall from heaven. Amen."

In Loving Sympathy

(To A. C. and R. C. C.)

O friends bereaved, I vainly seek to frame
In feeble human words which mortal mind
Can write and read, deep-rooted thoughts I find
Concealed within my consciousness, which come
I know not whence: their source I cannot name,
Yet feel lies past the streams of death that bind
Far worlds to those our loved have left behind.
But human words are futile—weak and lame.

We surely are the loved ones "lost," not they—
Lost in the gloomy mists that hide from sight
(Our sight, not theirs) the goal of life's rough trail
Up which we have to climb our skyward way
Until we glimpse the shining beacon light
Which points the way to meet them without fail.
—Lillian Mathilda Svenson

The Earthquake

March 10, 1933

O, chanting tongues of bells that frenzied shaking stilled—
O loved ones, ushered into endless, dreaming sleep;
As, with the tortured earth that rocked and shook and milled
The gristing hours, with rumblings from within the deep
I had no time to pray for respite as the night
Became a vortex of some strange choatic mass,
And, blinded to the fury of my awful plight
I tried to flee its wrath, each scene I tried to pass;
I ran from falling bricks and tortures of its greed
Until God's spirit, love impelled, became my host;
He bade me stay; give help to those in direst need—
And thus I found the courage that I thought was lost.

The Azores

Can't you hear the wild canary
And the chattering parrot's squawk?
Can't you feel the lift-ecstatic
As you tread the cobbled walk

Of the steep and winding roadside
Clambering down from Fayal's side.
Can't you feel the rhythmic pulsing
Of the ocean at it's side?

Do you feel the utter longing
Like the shaking of a limb
To go up and ride the heavens,
Delve among the clouds with him?

Do you long to take the colors
Flaming up and down the mount,
Wrap them around you like a mantle
Knowing space nor time would count?
—Grace Phillips, Columbus, Ohio

I yield to Poetry's spell—
Confess that I find joy
In metered rhyme; and like
To follow out the thought—
If I have time!
But, O, I like to know
What 'tis they talk about!

Some writers seem to me
To jugglers be.
They choose their words
Right carefully;
And toss them out
Right fluently;
With art and skill they build
A verbal structure, rare,
That doth attention, first,
Then interest, ensnare.
They build it high with word
On ponderous word, and when
It's done, the wee small thought
Is hidden from the sun.

Going on a Journey

I'm going on a journey soon,
What shall I take, what shall I leave?
I cannot take my dearest friends,
For present pleasures shall I grieve?

But I must take the life I've lived;
The good that I have laid in store;—
And I must take the sad regrets
That I did not accomplish more.

I must be ready for the call
To take the train that carries all.
—Edna Vaughan Black, 423 Molino Avenue, Long Beach

Glory of a Pool

Brown-parchment leaves lay silently
As Dragon Flies came near
To pause in obscure nebulae
And salient lack of fear.

Helicon butterflies came down
In rainbow colored sheen
To light upon a fallen tree
And lift their wings to preen.

A giant, wind-blown Cottonwood
Looked on the scene that day,
And shook silk threads to cover us
And steal our breath away.

And iron is good for what ails you. If nothing ails you 'twill do you good anyway, and keep you from getting into a rundown condition. The reason anemic people are anemic is lack of iron and minerals.

Not only is the iron in bread healthful, but laboratory research, by degreed scientists and experts in food and nutrition proves that bread helps you get the full benefit of the iron from the other foods you eat.

GOOD BOOKS VITAL TO UNDERSTANDING

Edward E. Gray Tells Lions Importance of Knowing "What Is Going On"

An understanding of what is going on is important if people are to clearly interpret current events, Edward E. Gray, local attorney, said at the meeting of the Upland Lions club in the Red Hill Country club house at noon yesterday. To get that understanding Mr. Gray suggested the reading of good books.

"Buy three books a year for the next 10 years—read them again and again and study them—and you will be amazed at the amount of new knowledge you have obtained," the speaker said in offering a definite suggestion for making better Americans of the nation's citizenry.

Newspapers are very important but they can give only a passing picture of daily events, Mr. Gray said. He expressed the belief that persons should go beyond the newspapers and study the nation's history and delve into what is back of the various events and learn of what are the reasons for what is going on.

As to what books to read, Mr. Gray pointed out that people would give a wide variety of suggestions. He urged, however, that "you get off to the right start." He suggested purchase of books, rather than just borrowing from the library. "Make good books part of you," he continued in his admonitons

A proper understanding of events is necessary for Americans to properly interpret propaganda that is flooding the nation. Nationally known speakers are concerned about propaganda and emphasis is placed on ways and means of not allowing it to mislead readers, Mr. Gray said.

R. Frank Lemon was program chairman. President E. C. Rosenberger was in charge of the meeting.

Theaters, Programs For Week In Valley Given Review Here

Film Bill Here Is Outstanding—

It is generally recognized that the Upland theatre is an outstanding attraction here, due largely to the fine selection of pictures offered. The current attractions here are in keeping with the high type of films for which the local theatre is famous.

Billed for tonight and Saturday are "Hideaway Girl," featuring Martha Raye, and "Two in a Crowd," with Joan Bennett and Joel McCrea. Opening for four days Sunday will be "Born to Dance," with Eleanor Powell and "The Smartest Girl in Town," with Gene Raymond and Ann Sothern.

Among the other pictures for next week are "The Man I Marry" and "Come Closer Folks," which are scheduled for Thursday only. On Friday and Saturday of next week, film fans may see "Under Your Spell" and "15 Maiden Lane."

Granada Drawing Many Theatre Fans

Since opening of the Granada theatre, many people are seeing the latest pictures there. Due to the restrictions in releasing pictures, theatres in this district can get the latest pictures only after they have been shown at certain other places.

"But you can depend upon it," Manager Jack Anderson of the Granada said, "people can see the latest and the best here just as soon as it is possible to get the pictures here. Furthermore, they can see the pictures here under ideal conditions. The recently refurnished theatre includes the finest in furnishings and equipment. The sound recording is perfect."

On the program for tonight and tomorrow are "Rainbow on the River," with May Robson and Charles Butterworth, and "Tarzan Escapes," featuring John Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan. Billed for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday are "College Holiday," with Jack Benny and Burns and Allen, and "Crack Up," with Peter Lorre.

"It Rained In Ixtlan Del Rio" Is New Feature

That a boisterous bandit may be more play-boy than bandit is delightfully demonstrated in the Mexican Players comedy, "It Rained in Ixtlan del Rio" now at the Padua Hills theatre.

The story is set in a small inn in the town of Ixtlan del Rio, where rains have delayed a train, and the passengers seeking rest and refreshment, have gathered in the inn of Dona Tecla. "El Gallo," the bandit, realizing that this is his golden moment, loses no time in taking charge of Dona Tecla's establishment and all who are within.

Kipp of Upland, will be held in the men's lounge in the junior college building. A round-table discussion will be held.

All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting and to participate in the discussion The meeting will be an informal one.

SCHOOLS OPEN AS HOLIDAY CLOSES

Day and Adult Classes Are on Regular Schedule in District

School is in session today after a vacation beginning Dec. 18.

Beginning of class schedules after the Christmas holiday recess affected not only youths but many adults. The Chaffey adult night school opened last night, regular school classes having opened yesterday morning.

Attendance was almost the same yesterday as when classes adjourned for the holidays. A small increase in enrollment is expected here during January due to families locating here for the fruit picking season.

Wide interest is being shown by many adults in courses offered at the night school. Persons may begin some of the courses, although many of the classes are closed to enrollment due to the large number now attending. The term just beginning continues until the Easter vacation.

Fight Followers See Carter, Jure Win in Decisions Over Foes

Fight fans who attended the Ontario boxing arena Wednesday saw Ernie Carter, San Bernardino, take the decision over Douglas Moody, Los Angeles 136-pounder. There was no doubt as to the outcome as Carter, a colored slugger, tore into his opponent from the start.

Following the interesting program, an oyster dinner was served under the direction of Darwin Brest, food committee chairman.

Dog Round-up Here Unlikely Immediately

In recent years this city has not had a "dog round up" and such an event is not likely here unless an epidemic of rabies is likely to start, according to Dr. Robert I. Hodgin, city health officer.

Ontario officials are considering the possibility of conducting a round-up of all unlicensed dogs in an effort to prevent rabies among the canine pets of that city.

Review of Books At Local Library

Mrs. Ruth N. West

James Boswell—"Journal of a Tour to the Hebrides".

The most important literary discovery of the present era has been the reappearance of the James Boswell manuscripts.

At the date of his death in 1795, James Boswell left a reference in his will to his private papers stored in an ebony chest at the family seat of Auchinleck Castle, Scotland. For generations his descendants put off the curious, the scholars and most of all the collectors, claiming that the ebony chest had been destroyed. It was not until 1927 that Boswell's great, great-grandson permitted Colonel Isham, famed collector of items on Samuel Johnson, to examine the material. As a result, a limited edition of 18 volumes costing $900 a set was completed in 1934.

"Nevertheless," we are told, "undiscovered Boswell items were apparently so thickly scattered around his great, great grandson's home, that they all but got under the feet of the guests. When Lady Talbot gave a party in 1930, another mass of Boswell's papers was found in an old croquet box. This batch included the manuscript of the 'Journal of a Tour to the Hebrides' half again as long as the previously published work and the most valuable Boswell manuscript thus far discovered."

So it happens that one hundred and sixty-three years after it was written, the full Journal has been published. An authentic first edition is the November selection of the Literary Guild, and is now part of the collection of the public library.

James Boswell was the son of a noted Scotch jurist and it was intended that he follow the law. But Boswell wanted to see the world, and seeing the world to him meant meeting celebrities. The shining light in the literary world was Samuel Johnson, so soon after meeting him, Boswell began issuing invitations to visit Scotland. It was many years before Johnson finally consented. In 1773 he arrived in Edinburgh for a tour of the Highlands and the Hebrides; and as Boswell was in the habit of copying down Johnson's words as they came from his lips, he provided himself with notebooks for recording the conversations and events of the journey. It is from these actual notebooks carried by Boswell that this edition of his famous "Tour of the Hebrides" is printed.

Previous editions have been greatly abridged, so it happens that this publication makes a "handsome, leisurely, well-documented edition of one of the least stuffy of English classics, a pleasant book for casual readers, a superb one for admirers of the great doctor and his amiable biographer."

AERO DEPARTMENT IS TO BUILD BOAT

President of Northrop Aircraft Corporation Places Order at Chaffey

By Gerald Holsclaw

"Work on an all metal 'stressed skin' design speed boat, which is to be built by the Chaffey junor college aeronautics department for John K. Northrop, president of the Northrop Aircraft Corporation, will be started this week," revealed Charles L. Turner, head of the aeronautics department.

"Inasmuch as the material used and the type of construction employed in the building of this streamlined speed boat will be synonomous with general aircraft factory practice, I consider that this project will be of great value in training those students who wish to secure employment in the growing aeronautical industry," continued the instructor.

Preliminary drawings of hydrodynamically correct hull contours have been submitted to Mr. Turner by the young southland factory executive following extensive tests of models in a towing tank. Actual working drawings and design details are now being worked out by students engaged in aeronautical drafting research at the college.

Revolutionary in design, in that its construction will be identical with that employed in building floats for modern giant flying boats, the craft is to be powered with a marine converted V-8 automobile engine. Aluminum alloy, of the same type now used in the construction of modern sky-liners, will be used throughout.

Recreation Project For Each District Will Be Discussed

Mass meeting of all civic and welfare agency leaders is to be held in the San Bernardino civic auditorium next Monday. Leaders of various local organizations have been invited.

U. L. Voris, acting supervisor of an enlarged WPA recreation project, has called the meeting. Recommendations as to community needs are being sought from city councils, P.-T. A.'s and other organizations. Any community may participate in this program through action of local recreation committees.

Bank Clearings Show Big Increase in Week

Mail Delivery Will Be Earlier as Train Scheduled Changed

Uplanders will get earlier delivery of mail from the east and earlier dispatch of air mail from Los Angeles as the result of scheduled changes in two Santa Fe trains carrying mail. The changes will be effective Sunday, Postmaster Orton P. Brady said today.

West bound train No. 41, arriving here now at 7:32 a. m. will arrive at 5:20 a. m. Train No. 19, also from the east, arriving at 12:15 now, will arrive at 11:30 a. m. Mail arriving at 5:20 a. m. will be delivered to local people during the same morning rather than being held until the afternoon delivery as at present.

Air mail posted here just prior to 11:30 a. m. will get to Los Angeles in time for the airplane gong east at 3 p. m. Mail posted at the same time now would not get to Los Angeles in time for this plane, it being held over until the 9 p. m. airplane.

Report on Income in 1936 To Be Given on Forms Just Received

Many in this district have received income tax forms for filing 1936 returns. The forms are to be filed immediately, March 15 being the last date they may be filed without penalty for delinquency. At least one-fourth of the tax must be paid when the return is filed.

Every single person having a net income of $1,000 or more; every married person having a net income of $2,500 or more and every person, whether married or single, having a gross income of $5,000 or more must file a return.

It is likely a representative of the Internal Revenue department will be in Upland within a few weeks to receive tax payments and to assist people in making out their returns.

NEW VOLUME GIVES TRAFFIC OFFENDERS

Local Police Get Names of Drivers Whose License Suspended

Names of all the California automobile drivers whose operators' licenses were suspended during November have been received at the Upland police station. Each month the local department gets the lists of suspended drivers and each monthly volume is larger than the previous volume.

Licenses of 3,536 California drivers were suspended and 311 revoked or cancelled in November.

Reinstatement of licenses for the month was given as 279 while 3,601 failed to pass their tests, 427 were definitely refused and instruction permits were issued to 2,727 persons who desired to learn to drive.

"Further analysis of special tests being conducted by the Division," Paul Mason, chief of the state division of drivers' licenses, sad, "has brought to light some interesting factors with relation to drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1936. In checking 119 such drivers, our tests showed that one in twelve had little or no vision in one eye, and in most cases the drivers, themselves, were unaware of this defect.

"Many of these defects can be corrected with proper treatment, and following correction, there is reason to believe, many will be able to safely operate cars."

Judge Sees To It That All Fines Are Paid Promptly

Being a city judge in Upland is more than merely sitting in the local court and fining law violators. It requires a vast amount of bookkeeping.

The way Judge D. J. Burlingame keeps his records, follows up out-of-town residents who ignore traffic citations and generally handles the book work is outstanding, according to Frank J. Freeman, captain of the San Bernardino county unit of the California highway patrol. Mr. Freeman visited the local police department yesterday and among other things he noted Judge Burlingame's bookkeeping system.

One reason the fine totals in Upland are unusually large is because every person receiving a citation for violation of traffic laws is held to account for their deed.

Many motorists stopped by local traffic officers reside in cities other than Upland. The officer notes on the citation when the violator is to appear before Judge Burlingame. Frequently the violator ignores the citation, thinking that the matter will be forgotten.

Generally in such cases, however, Judge Burlingame writes a letter to the violator pointing out his negligence in not responding to the summons. The letter suggests that the matter can be settled by mail if it is impossible for the person to appear in person. If this letter is ignored a summons for arrest of the violator is issued. When this summons is served the violator is under arrest and before his appearance before the local judge it is likely he will have to spend a night in jail.

If the violator cannot be located, records in the case are transcribed for a file in Sacramento. This latter procedure serves as a "stop" in the violator's efforts in getting new auto license plates. Before new plates are issued the person must first settle the local case.

The "checking up" procedure requires a vast amount of bookkeeping and double checking.

"But that is the only way to do it," Captain Freeman said. On leaving he took with him a copy of the letter sent by the local judge to the violators.

Hold of Mussolini On Italy Described By Upland Visitor

Italians get to read and hear only that which Mussolini wants them to know, Ross Hadley, a vistor in Upland, said yesterday after his return from Italy. His wife is of Italian parentage. They went to Italy for a visit, Mr. Hadley meeting her relatives for the first time. As a guest in the homes of people there he was in a position to observe the country and to note the "hold" that Mussolini has on the people.

"The newspapers are government controlled — they have in them only what the government wants them to know," Mr. Hadley said. "It's the same with radios. The government controls all the stations. Only 20 minutes of advertising daily is permitted. The remainder of the time is given to musical programs and other entertainment numbers."

When Mussolini speaks he is heard by all radio listeners. His program is the only one permitted during the speech, Mr. Hadley explained.

"It is possible for some of the sets to get foreign stations but the Italian government sees to it that foreign speeches do not get into Italy," the visitor continued. Government men listen to all foreign stations obtainable in Italy. Whenever there is any speech not acceptable to authorities, 'interference' is turned on and no one in Italy can hear what is said."

Mr. Hadley is an aeronautics enthusiast. A plane for him is being built by Chaffey aviation students. He was here to observe progress of the work.

Mennonites Send Aid To Canadian Churches

In answer to an appeal from the Mennonite churches located in Saskatchewan, Canada, the Missionary society of the Upland church is sponsoring a drive to gather clothing and other necessities to send to the distressed Canadian members. The project is conducted by Mrs. Lester Hostetler, president of the organization.

Because of the severe winters and the subsequent loss of crops there the people who have settled in that locality following their evacuation from Russia during the revolution, have found it necessary to ask their United States brethren for aid. "Anything anyone desires to give will be welcomed," stated Mrs. Hostetler.

The young wife was in tears when she opened the door for her husband. "I've been insulted," she sobbed. "Your mother insulted me."

"My mother," he exclaimed. "But she is a hundred miles away."

"I know, but a letter came for you this morning and I opened it."

He looked stern. "I see, but where does the insult come in?"

"In the postscript," she answered. "It said: 'Dear Alice, don't forget to give this letter to George'."

"Our work this afternoon," he said, "will be the cutting up and inspecting the inward workings of a frog. I have a frog in my pocket here, to be used as a specimen."

He reached into his pocket and pulled out a paper sack, shook its contents on the table, and out rolled a nice sandwich.

The professor was puzzled. He scratched his head and muttered: "That's funny. I distinctly remember eating my lunch."—The Earth Mover.

LEMON SITUATION FOR YEAR CITED

Annual Exchange Report Tells Of Crop and Market Conditions

Review of the lemon situation in this district during the last year occupies a part of the annual report of the Ontario-Cucamonga Fruit Exchange. Concerning the lemon situation, Harry B. Harlow, manager, said, in part:

"Our lemon shipments amounted to 1,707¼ cars, on which we received an average of $4.47 per box. The California lemon crop was approximately 22,000 cars or 30 per cent below last year's bumper crop.

"Shipments of packed and loose by the California Fruit Growers exchange, however, were the largest ever made, amounting to 18,663 cars.

"Our shipments were 316 cars less than last year, but our average price was $1.62 per box higher.

"The crop this year matured much differently than a year ago, the season starting out with the total California Fruit Growers exchange storage being only 403 cars or 54 per cent below the five-year average.

"Picks during the first four months amounted to only 4,778 cars as compared with 11,728 cars the previous year. Peak storage was reached May 1 with the California Fruit Growers exchange having 5,185 cars as against over 9,000 cars a year ago. Of this 5,185 cars, this district held 483.

"This situation created a trade confidence which made it possible to obtain the widest distribution at satisfactory prices and in our opinion this trade confidence was the largest contributing factor in this season's successful operation both as to volume and price. However, we must not overlook the extreme hot weather that hit the country following July 4 and continued for a long period which enabled us to sell the heavy shipments of June and July at very satisfactory prices.

The Exchange Lemon Products company received from exchange shippers the equivalent to 770 packed cars of lemons as compared to 9,200 a year ago. From this you can readily see the percentage of the crop shipped this year was a real factor in determining field box returns.

"Foreign lemon importations to this country amounted to 255 cars, being below the average importation but in heavier volume than the last two years."

Crippled Children's Hospital Near Here To Be Started Soon

Crippled children will be benefitted in a convalescent home and hospital which will be opened soon on the campus of the California Junior Republic, Chino. The hospital and the Warm Springs foundation in Georga, in which President Franklin D. Roosevelt has taken a personal interest, are reported to be the only institutions of their kind in the country.

Buildings are already up on the campus, having been used for residences. They will be converted into hospital quarters. Name of the hospital will be the Casa Colina Convalescent Home for Crippled Children. The buildings were willed to the Junior Republic by the late Mrs. Margaret Fowler to be used for some worthy project.

Money for maintenance of the institution is expected to come from interested individuals and communities. The board of directors includes prominent Pomona, Chino and Claremont residents.

Birthday Ball Will Be Passed Up Here

A "birthday ball," held in January for several years at the time of President Roosevelt's birthday anniversary is not planned for Upland this year.

At least no suggestions for such an event have been received here. In some communities local leaders have taken the initiative in holding a ball for the benefit of local agencies. Postmaster Orton P. Brady, who in the past has received material relative to the ball from Washington, D. C., said that the nationwide plan for birthday balls is apparently not scheduled for this year.

"HOWDY, FOLKS, HOWDY!

Back in Albert Lea, Minn., when we meet, we say in Swedish, "Good Morgen." Most everyone know what we mean 'cause nearly everyone in Minnesota bane Swede. But, by golly when we get across to Dickinson, North Dakota, we got to say "Dobra Vechra" 'cause nearly everyone talk Russian. Not everyone know what we mean though, 'cause the feller what we speak to might be Bohemian. So then we say "Dobri Tro" and he smile. Maybe we not go as far as Chicago to find an Irish policeman, but he would say "Top o' the Mornin' to ye," and he really say it the way you like it.

* * *

In most any state you walk in business end of town and say, "Sholem Alcheim" and all the Yiddish folks know you speakin' to them and they smile. And the way the Greek in the restaurant say "Kalemera" make you like your bacon and eggs much better. The German too is a friendly feller and he say "Guten Morgen." Back in Germantown, Pa., everyone say it this way. The Polish say "Dobri Jutro" anl if you travel to Baton Rouge, La., and say "Bonjour" and everyone know what you mean. That's French. Around San Francisco the Italian say, "Buon Giorno." And you like that, too. But when you go to the vegetable markets around Los Angeles, the Japanese will say "Ohio." Aneway it sound it mean yust "Good Morning" in English. And it start the day out right. What you tank?

CUCAMONGA WORKS ON ORANGE SHOW

Entry to Advertise Community Being Planned With Judge Sharp in Charge

Tentative plans are being made by Cucamonga residents for the Orange show entry next month. Judge James Sharp, veteran in the business of designing Cucamonga citrus classic exhibits, is head of the committee arranging for the display.

Not especially interested in the monetary result of winning Orange show prizes, Cucamonga civic leaders are planning an entry that will appropriately advertise the community. If the exhibit does win a prize, it is likely the money award will be sufficient to cover most of the entry expenses.

The Cucamonga Service club is sponsoring the exhibit. Under the leadership of William Hutton, president, the club is taking the lead in the west end of the county in boosting the show. Tickets for the show, to be held in San Bernardino, are on sale in Cucamonga, Upland and Ontario.

YOU AND PEDESTRIANS

You are wrong if you think the pedestrian loses his right-of-way when the light flashes red against him when he is in the middle of the intersection. A great many motorists do think that, and act accordingly. They are quite pained to discover sometimes just how wrong they are.

Most interpretations of the law point out that when the pedestrian enters the intersection on the green light, he has the right to a clear passage irrespective of what the signal may do after he has started across the street.

It is a case where the spirit of the law definitely transcends the letter.

CLEARANCE SALES UNDERWAY IN CITY

Concerns Offering Opportunity for People to Save On Purchases

This is "clearance sale" time in Upland. Four local stores are offering merchandise at sale prices, annual January sales having been started this week.

The J. J. Atwood Co., which is enjoying a steady increase in business, is offering scores of outstanding bargains. The sale began Wednesday. Emphasis is placed on the fact that people can save by taking advantage of the specal prices during the sale period. Owen E. Atwood, manager of the store, pointed out that the price tendency is upward and that big savings are being offered. Bulletins from wholesale concerns point out that cost of merchandise at wholesale is constantly going up. This means an increase in the retail price.

Goodban's Brownbilt shoe store, Harnish Dry Goods Co. and Engle's Men's shop are also offering special prices in the clearance sales.

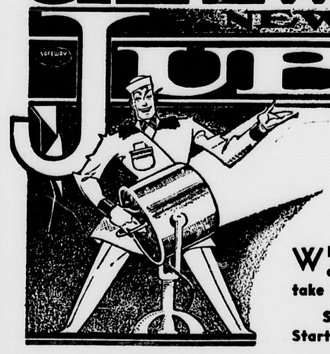

Concerning the increae in prices, bulletins have been received by other local stores emphasizing that higher costs are likely and that "prices may equal the peak of 1928-29." One reason for the higher cost of merchandise is the extensive purchases of raw materals in this country by European nations in war preparations. Another reason is the big increase in building activities and the strike at Pacific coast ports is resulting in decreased distribuiton of products.

Tuberculosis Drive Sets County Record

In reporting the amount received from the sale of Christmas seals, Mrs. Imogene Garner Hook of San Bernardino, county association president, states that $3239.48 has been received as a result of the annual drive, this being more than three times the amount received last year. Instead of alloting quotas to each city or town as heretefore, the campaign was conducted with the county as the unit. The seals were mailed out from San Bernardino and contributions were made to county headquarters.

While the campaign is officially over, Mrs. Garner states that a "clean up" campaign is being held and contributions will continue to come in until Jan. 15.

Total of 15,000 envelopes was mailed with a dollar's worth of stamps in each. Cards are now being mailed to those sent envelopes and who have not contributed, requesting that either a dollar be sent or the stamps returned.

All work of stuffing, addressing and mailing the 15,000 envelopes was done by volunteer labor.

Traffic Questions Answered Here

Q—How soon after an accident, resulting in injury to someone, must a report be filed?

A—Within 24 hours.

Q—To whom must reports of accidents be made when there is injury to another?

A—When the accident occurs within a city, to the police department, otherwise to the California highway patrol's nearest office or to department of motor vehicles.

Q—What must a driver of a vehicle do when he becomes involved in an accident and no one is injured?

A—Give his name, address, registration number of vehicle driven, name of owner of vehicle and exhibit his operator's or chauffeur's license, upon request to other party or to any traffic or police officer at scene of accident.

Q—Do traffic officers receive a percentage of court fines to be applied to their salaries?

A—No, all such fines are paid directly into the road funds of the county where such offense occurred.

Q—Is it true that traffic officers must make a certain number of arrests each day to maintain their efficiency rating?

A—On the contrary, efficiency of an officer is based upon his beat being kept free from accidents resulting from careless drivers. Arrests are not the deciding factor.

Q—Do pedestrians have the right of way at intersections?

A—Yes.

Q—How about pedestrians who cross streets and highways between intersections?

A—They have the right of way at marked intersections or crossings. In the interest of safety and courtesy, motorists should always yield the right of way.

Q—Is is permissible at any time to pass a standing street car on the left side?

A—Only when so directed by an officer, on one way streets, or when car tracks are so located as to make a right hand pass impossible.

Q—Does a chauffeur need an operator's license also?

A—No. But a person having an operator's license must secure a chauffeur's license when accepting a position as chauffeur.

Q—Who are given the exclusive right to carry white painted canes?

A—The partially or totally blind.

Q—Outside of a business or residence district how fast may one drive by a stopped school bus, stopped for the purpose of receiving or discharging school children?

A—The car must first be brought to a complete stop, and then proceed at a speed not greater than is reasonable or proper but in no event at more than ten miles per hour.

Q—What is the speed limit in a business district?

A—Twenty miles per hour.

Q—In towing a small trailer is it necessary to have a chain or cable in addition to a tow bar?

A—Yes. It increases safety on the highways.

Q—Do I have to carry my operator's license at all times when driving?

A—Yes. Also, be sure that it is signed in pen and ink.

Q—A neighbor who is a very good driver, owns no car and has no operator's or chauffeur's license. Am I liable to arrest if I permit him to drive me downtown.

A—Yes.

Q—I have lost one of my automobile registration number plates. Will it be satisfactory if I have a duplicate painted on a wood board and use it?

A—No. It is required by law that you report the loss of the plate and, in the event it is not recovered, you must apply for a duplicate plate, fee $1.

Q—Is a back up light legal on my automobile?

A—Yes—but it must be lighted only when backing the vehicle, show a white light and must not strike the pavement at a distance of more than 75 feet to the rear.

Q—Isn't it enough, when stopping a car on a slight grade, to brake it by "toeing" in the front wheels against the curb?

A—No, the law states that a car to be parked should have the motor stopped and the brakes set.

Q—Is there a provision in the law which makes it wrong for me to step from my car through the left hand door?

A—No, but it is a dangerous practice. Oncoming cars may crush you between the car and the door.

Mrs. Jones could only find two aisle seats—one behind the other; she turned and cautiously surveyed the man in the next seat. Finally she leaned over and timidly addressed him.

"I beg your pardon, sir, but are you alone?"

The man, without turning his head in the slightest, but twisting his mouth to an alarming degree and shielding it with his hand, muttered: "Cut it out, Kid—cut it out! My wife's with me."

TRANSIENT NUMBER HERE ON DECREASE

Fewer Roamers Reported Now As Compared With Recent Winters

Number of transients in Upland is less now than a year ago and in other recent years.

Upland police department records show that the number of men asking for a free bed in the city jail is less than in 1935. Number of reports of "pan-handlers" in the city is also less.

Sending of all transients to the State Relief Administration office in San Bernardino for quick investigation and for transportation out of the state with federal funds has been recommended by the county transient committee. The SRA has money available for transporting the wanderers home.

No definite action has been taken authorizing the sending of all transients to the SRA but the matter [illegible] county and state officials.

C. William Manker, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Manker of Upland, has constructed a building at Padua Hills and will hereafter manufacture his brand of pottery there as soon as his kiln is finished for burning same. His father is assisting him in his preparations.

Mr. Manker formerly made his ceramics at Pasadena, but for some time he has been teaching in Scripps college, Claremont, which work he will continue. He has built up a good trade with wholesale firms on his pottery, which is of unusual fine quality and nearest to that manufactured by the Chinese, being not only artistic in design but also very durable.

Jerrene Colborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Colborn, 732 Second avenue, was among 23 students initiated last week in candlelight ceremonies to the Clionian Literary society at the University of Southern California.

The formal initiation was conducted at the home of Mrs. Sidney Olmstead, 705 North Elm drive, Beverley Hills.

Members of Clionian offered a program of musical numbers and literary selections. Alumni and honorary members of the organization participated in the ceremonies.

Clionian is an honorary literary society for women talented in the field of poetry and writing, with membership in the organization considered one of the highest honors of its type obtainable at U. S. C.

Four Licenses Daily To Wed, Is Average

An average of nearly four marriage licenses a day was issued in this county during 1936, Harold Zenz, Upland, who is in charge of the marriage license bureau in the county clerk's office, San Bernardino said. Total licenses issued was 1382, about 40 less than the 1935 total.

Twenty-one couples did not get their licenses after applying for them at the clerk's office. Some licenses were not issued because applicants did not present proper proof of their ages and in some cases one or both parties in romances changed their minds.

Furniture Damaged In Fire To Be Sold

As the result of a recent fire in their warehouse, the Klimes Furniture Co. is conducting a fire sale. Furniture, damaged by smoke in the fire, is on sale at a temporary store room, 220 North Euclid avenue, Ontario.

The warehouse fire caused considerable stir in the Ontario business district, but the flames were extinguished before there was much actual damage to the furniture.

Worth While Books In Public Library

"Audubon," by Constance Rourke
Reviewed by Ruth N. West

Constance Rourke, known as the foremost scholar of the American frontier, has added to her justly famous reputation by writing a book which will place her firmly in the minds of the American reading public.

With four other outstanding books to her credit, Miss Rourke has produced a fifth which will prove that her discoveries of unknown materials in out-of-the-way places—old diaries, almanacs, prints and paintings, folk songs and stories—have added immeasurably to the fund of early American legend. Her research fairly lives in the pages of her books.

John James Audubon has waited a long time for an able biographer, but the wait has not been in vain. No other writer could have so ably re-created the life and times of this early naturalist and debonair young Frenchman who brightened the frontier of America during one of the most colorful periods in history.

With a vein of wistfulness, Miss Rourke introduces the rather confusing facts concerning the parentage or birth of her hero. She would, perhaps, like to convince the world, as well as herself, that he is the true Dauphin of France, the small son of Marie Antoinette and Louis XVI. The boy's look of race and breeding did not resemble the bluff, boisterous seaman, Captain Audubon, who brought him, supposedly at the age of 9, from America, together with a younger girl, and adopted him as his own.

Audubon himself was known to say: "My own name I have never been permitted to speak. Accord me that of Audubon, which I revere, as I have cause to do." And it was his own mother who said at the time of John Audubon's death: "My son! To think that you should have died without knowing the secret of your father's life!"

But aside from this small claim to fame, young Audubon, bird-lover, artist, woodsman, possessor of a keen sense of observation which drove him with relentless energy toward realization of his almost passionate interest, stands alone among early American naturalists.

A glance into the book, which includes reproductions in full color of the elephant folio prints "Birds in America" will convince the reader that here is an unusual man, the story of whose life has been ably recounted and beautifully placed in a suitable and adequate setting.

He lived a full, romantic life. He was to rise from poverty and obscurity to fame and fortune. He was to choose as wife a gently bred young English girl who followed him unflinchingly into a wilderness in which one could find almost anything and usually did. Lucy Bakewell Audubon deserves a book of her own. She and John were ideally happy in spite of the years when Audubon's life resembled a perpetual wild goose chase that had no end. But it did end happily—almost like a fairy tale, with the family reunited and the queer husband a famous man. In fact, few men of genius have been quite so fortunate in their wives.

This then is the life of Audubon, which is also a life of the wilderness, a life of the earlier America he saw, lived in and loved. Read it!

A colored boy was strolling through a cemetery reading the inscriptions on the tombstones. He came to one which read, "Not dead, but sleeping."

Scratching his head, the negro remarked: "He sure ain't foolin' nobody but hisself."—Trumbell Cheer.

MANY SUBSCRIBERS PAY FOR THE UPLAND NEWS

. . . AND THE RESPONSE NOW IS WONDERFUL

With the start of the new year, many subscriptions expire. It is a time when hundreds of families decide the question, "Shall we continue The News?"

Answer to that question has been almost unanimous so far this year. Payment of the small yearly subscription price—$2.00—is greatly appreciated by The News staff. The payment by so many also gives the assurance that The News is preferred by almost everyone.

Actually there are very few families in Upland who do not get The News. Not only in Upland, but also in the outlying communities, more families are steadily joining The News subscription list. The $2.00 annual subscription is small compared with getting the local newspaper 104 times during the year.

Reading The News is not an expense, but an economy, as many times the subscription price is saved by reading the advertisements and taking advantage of the bargains offered in many lines.

THANK YOU!

The News staff is appreciative of the fine support given by the people and firms in the Upland district. Number of subscribers is steadily increasing. Amount of advertising is gaining, and Upland's hometown newspaper is serving far more people than for many years.

TIGERS PLAYING IN LEAGUE TILT

Hoopsters Meet San Bernardino There Tonight As Outlook Bright

With the Chaffey Tigers favored to win easily, the five plays in San Bernardino tonight. This is the second game for the Tigers and the third for San Bernardino. Chaffey won over Riverside in a game prior to the Christmas holidays.

Two "first team" squads make up Coach Karl Kaiser's aggregation. Seniors form most of one squad with most of the players on another squad being juniors. There is little to choose from between the two squads.

Freshened by the holiday rest after a lengthy early season practice, the Tigers appear to be in excellent form for resumption of the league games.

bed clothing. The gun was mute evidence that he had ended his own life. Deputy Coroner Doyle, Deputy Sheriff Jack Brown and Police Chief E. C. Mehl concurred in the same conclusion after further examination of the premises.

Mrs. Douglas was sitting in a wicker rocking chair, her back to the bed on which the man was lying, according to explanation she gave police Officers Ralph Durk and E. E. Carter. A hole believed to have been made by a bullet was evident in the back of the chair. Another bullet mark was on the baseboard in front of the chair.

An examination of the man's body had not been made by 2 o'clock this afternoon, but authorities were unable to explain presence of three empty shells, scattered about the floor. Dr. Holgin said the woman had been shot once.

Mr. Dean was an old age pensioner. A check made out to him by the San Bernardino County Welfare department was on the top of a dresser in the parlor-bedroom. How long he had lived at Mrs. Douglas' residence is unknown to neighbors. Mrs. Irvin said she did not know there was a man living at Mrs. Douglas' house until the frantically scared woman rushed to her house at noon with her dress blood-stained. Mrs. Douglas has resided in Upland for at least 10 years.

Prior to moving to Upland Mr. Dean is reported to have been in the Cucamonga district. With other monthly statements addressed to Mr. Dean on a table was one from the Gordon Billings grocery store in Alta Loma, indicating he had a charge account there.

Mr. Billings said he had known Mr. Dean about 12 years but had little information about the man personally. He estimated the dead man's age "in the seventies." It was the groceryman's understanding Mr. Dean had relatives.

The police as well as Mr. Billings could offer no explanation for the act.

"I knew he had been in poor health recently but I don't think he was in a bad condition," Mr. Billings said.

During Mrs. Douglas' residence here she had not become acquainted with many people, she living a quiet life to herself. Her name, however, has appeared in connection with police investigations in recent years.

Small Claims Court Work Is Described

Of increasing importance to many firms is the justice court as a means of collecting outstanding accounts under $50. At the suggestion of The Upland News Judge Fred H. Jacobs has given an outline of the court's jurisdiction. Court fees obtained in such cases in no way affects the judge's salary, he being paid a fixed monthly amount. The small fees charged in such cases go to a county fund.

Interested persons may contact the justice's office in obtaining the proper papers in commencing an action to collect a sum. After action has been started, the judge is required to set the matter for trial "not less than three days nor more than 15 days from date of the order."

The "prevailing party in the action is entitled to costs of the action. No fee for personal service is allowed." Concerning a counter claim, the defendant may file a verified answer stating any new matter which shall constitute a counter claim.

No attorney or person other than the plaintiff and defendant shall take any part in the filing or prosecution or defense of a trial in the small claims court. In addition to each party offering evidence, the judge may also informally make any investigation of the controversy between the parties either in or out of court.

No attachment or garnishment can be issued from the court, but execution may be issued after judgment is rendered. Upon payment of the required fees to the constable or sheriff they will seize the property of the judgment debtor described in the instructions, which must be delivered to him with the writ.

Chinese Dinner

Entertaining in true Oriental fashion, Miss Fanny Baumgartner, home on furlough from China, who is residing with her sister, Mrs. D. S. Dettweiler, North Hellman avenue, Alta Loma, treated her relatives to a Chinese dinner on New Year's eve.

Serving from both ends of the table, she presented her guests with fourteen varieties of Chinese food which the guests ate with chop sticks. The clever favors presented to each guest had been brought from China by the hostess. She told of many of the interesting customs of the Chinese, one being that if you cannot eat all of your piece of meat it is proper to place it in the next person's bowl.

Miss Baumgartner worked as a missionary in the province of Szechuan, town of Siufhan, which is located 1500 miles from Shanghai. She returned to the United States on July 26.

Those enjoying the unusual dinner were Mr. and Mrs. I. Ernest Cline and children, Gwen, Jack and Donald, of Upland; Mr. and Mrs. Ola Habagger and son, Olan Richard, of Inglewood; Miss Marjorie Kriegh of Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Dettweiler and daughter Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Habagger and daughter Katherine, Mr. and Mrs. E. Schmutz and the hostess, all of Alta Loma.

Mrs. Durham Makes Definite Suggestions About Children and Pictures

Definite suggestions as to when young school children should attend moving pictures and what pictures are best for them to see were given at the meetng of the Central P. - T. A. held in the Cucamonga school house yesterday. Mrs. Chick Ristine, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. W. L. Thomas.

Mrs. Durham, widely known as a leader in the motion picture council work, emphasized that pictures not only affect children mentally but also physically. Children under eight years of age should not be allowed to go at all to shows, Mrs. Durham said, and those older than that age should be permitted only one show a week. She cautioned mothers about allowing their children to sit through more than one showing of a film bill. It is also unwise to let them see pictures that arouse their emotions. In her list of recommendations she suggested generally recognized "good family pictures."

Her discussion was considered as very interesting and instructive and a good attendance heard the splendid talk.

The entertainment program included selections by James Rogers, fourth grade student. He was accompanied by Miss Wren Rucker, school principal. Miss Janet Hay's first and second grade pupils appeared in several songs. A social tea concluded the afternoon's program. Mrs. Robert Nesbit and Mrs. A. C. Beattie, hostesses, were in charge.

Etiwanda

ETIWANDA, Jan. 8.—The annual meeting of the Etiwanda Congregational church and the Friendly class of the Sunday school held a combined session in the church basement Wednesday evening, the latter organization serving their monthly pot luck supper, which was well attended and was followed by the annual business meeting of the church, during which officers were elected as follows: Trustees, Ernest Mueller, John Scott, Thomas Donnelly, Mrs. John Frost and Mrs. A. A. Werner; deacons, Chas. Donnelly and Elmer Mueller; deaconesses, Mrs. Ernest Mueller, Mrs Chas. Donnelly and Mrs. Lucy Morgan; clerk, Mrs. John Scott; treasurer, Mrs. Wm. McClean; pianist, Mrs. Thomas Donnelly, assistant pianist, Mrs. Harold V. Hartshorn; Sunday school superintendent, Elmer Mueller. Reports were given by the heads of the various departments of the church.

Rainfall for the recent storm added 1.36 inches to the season's total, bringing the measurement to date to 15.59 inches. Last year's measurement to date was 1.74 inches and normal rainfall to January 1 is 5.76 inches, as measured by Walter Barnes at the corner of Highland and East evenues. Heating in groves has been resorted to here on a number of the colder nights and some rain and hail fell Wednesday afternoon.

Judge and Mrs. Thomas Donnelly spent Tuesday night in Los Angeles, where they were dinner guests that evening of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hedderley.

Miss Rowe Rader of Los Angeles was a New Year's day guest at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Chas. Donnelly and family.

Miss Bumstead of Ontario was a week end guest of Mrs. E. E. Clark.

Mrs. Clyde Webb and daughter Jane were dinner guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McClean, Tuesday.

Church services will be held as usual Sunday. Rev. Harold Hartshorn, pastor, will speak at the morning service on "Several Varieties of Love." Special music will be provided.

Business Pick-up in Southland Is Shown In U. S. Bulletin

Copy of a bulletin received here from the United States department of commerce reports that wholesale business in the Los Angeles vicinity during 1935 gained 49 per cent over 49 pr cent over 1933. In retail business the increase from 1933 to the beginning of 1936 was 31 per cent.

The greatest improvement in retail sales since 1933, in Southern California, was in Riverside county, with an increase of 74 per cent, but still short by 20 per cent of its peak year in 1929. The recovery honors should go to Kern county, which showed an increase of 72 per cent and the only county in Southern California to whose 1935 retail sales were higher than the peak, seven years ago. Kern county, since it is one of the larger counties, holds this position over Riverside county, because its sales did not take the drop between 1929 and 1933 as did Riverside county. Kern county's sales dropped only 39 per cent in that two year period, while Riverside's sales fell off 54 per cent, hence had a longer pull to attain its 1929 standing.
